

Sustainability Manager at Facebook

The Bridge Group, LLC has an open position to discover and drive new sustainability initiatives at Facebook. The candidate will explore products that Facebook uses – how they are manufactured, materials used and how they are disposed of – and work with vendors to look for ways to improve their processes. The candidate will also investigate Facebook’s sustainability practices and will look for ways to improve upon them and then roll-out implementation. This includes exploring aspects of design then supporting Facebook’s overarching goals. The position also includes overseeing ergonomics and overall workplace wellness. The position is based in Menlo Park but may involve occasional visits to other sites within the United States.

Responsibilities

1. Help the design team to develop sustainability and wellness strategies and conceptualize the big picture
2. Gather feedback and data
3. Translate the data into trends, solutions, documentation and announcement
4. Message initiatives, provide strong communications and understand data
5. Tell meaningful stories from what Facebook has or help to create

Qualifications

1. Experience developing sustainability and wellness strategies
2. Big picture person with the ability to develop strategy but also execute
3. Specific experience in the sustainability field with a passion for the field
4. A leader who has experience in sustainability
5. Strong data management and analytics background
6. Must have excellent computer skills and ability to prepare high-level reports
7. Excellent communication skills, both written and verbal
8. Detail oriented
9. Innovative thinker, good communicator
10. Organized, knows how to prioritize

Compensation

1. Salary range: $100,000 - $120,000
2. Health, dental, vision, life coverage
3. Retirement plus company matching
4. Generous PTO policy

Interested?

Send your cover letter and resume to tamara@the-bg.com. We look forward in hearing from you!